"Heroes and Heroism"

One of Thomas Carlisle's most famous books was Heroes and Hero worship. It was that work that made his literary reputation. This illustrates how important the subject, "Heroes" is. To be heroic is man's greatest achievement, and so this should be a popular helpful subject. Come and help in the service.

The Hazel B No. 2, Sid Barrington captain, returned at 2 o'clock Tuesday from the first trip up the Stikine this season.

FLAG ETIQUETTE TO REMEMBER

Eminent Authority Gives Rules for Treatment of Old Glory—Teach the Children.

From the army and navy usages and other sources the late Mrs. George B. McFarlane, chairman of the D. A. R. national committee to prevent desecration of the flag, has gleaned the following code of flag etiquette.

1. The flag should not be hoisted before sunrise, nor allowed to remain up after sunset. It should not be displayed upon stormy days, nor left out over night.
2. When the flag is displayed at half staff, for mourning, it is to be lowered to that position from the top of the staff. It is afterwards hoisted to the top before it is finally lowered.
3. When the flag is formally raised, all present during the ceremony should stand at attention, with hand raised to the forehead ready for the salute.

Correct Salute

4. The correct salute to the flag, as required by the regulations of the United States army, is: Standing at attention, raise the right hand to the forehead, over the right eye, palm downward, fingers extended and close together, arm at an angle of forty-five degrees. Move hand outward about a foot, with a quick motion, drop to the side.

5. When the colors are passing on parade, or in review, the spectator should, if a man or boy, and if walking, halt; if sitting, rise; stand at attention, and uncover.

6. Whenever possible, the flag should be flown from a staff or mast, but should not be fastened to the side of a building, platform or scaffolding.

7. When flags are used in unveiling a statue or monument they should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

8. When the flag is used out of doors, it should always be allowed to fly in the breeze. When clusters and draping of colors are desired, bunting or cloth should be used, but never the flag.

9. When our national flag and state or other flags fly together, or are used in decorating together, our national flag should be on the right.

Not a Table Cover

10. For indoor decorations, the flag can only be used as a drape; it cannot be used to cover a bench or table, desk or box and where anything can be set or placed upon it. For indoor decorations, the flag may be caught up in many artistic fashions and used with bunting, garlands, plants and flowers, but should never be placed below a person sitting.

11. When used on a bier or casket at a funeral, the stars should be placed at the head. In no case should the flag be allowed to touch the ground.

12. The flag must not be marred by advertisements, nor desecrated on the stage.

13. It is an unwritten law in the navy that the flag is never to be washed; it is always to be considered immaculate.

14. When "The Star Spangled Banner" is played, all present should rise and stand at attention until the ending. The playing of it as a part of a medley should be prohibited and it should not be played as an exit march.

JUNEAU ATTORNEY DISBARRED FROM PRACTICING LAW

The steamer Equator of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which is dragging in Frederick sound, made a voyage to Wrangell the first of the week for a supply of coal.

15. The only federal legislation with regard to the flag forbids the registration of any trademark which consists of or comprises the flag or coat of arms or other insignia of the United States, or any simulation thereof, or of any states or municipality, or of any foreign nation, etc.

16. The flag salute adopted by the N. S. D. A. R., and by our military schools, the Boy Scouts and other organizations and which should be taught in all of our public schools, is: "I pledge allegiance to my flag, and to the republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with Liberty and justice to all."

Teach the Children

17. Our children should be taught to carefully handle and guard their little flags from rough and disrespectful treatment, and not be permitted to carelessly toss them about in parades and processions, nor throw them away should a stick become broken or should the child tire of holding it.

MOBILIZE

Mobilize is becoming as hardworked a word as strenuous. Alaska is called upon to mobilize its industries. This means to develop every possible industry to its utmost capacity.

It seems strange that a community should be called upon to do this. The first thought would be that among a people as bright and progressive as the average American is, no industry would be overlooked.

What obstacles are in the way? Conservative business men are disposed to distrust the untried industry, and on the other hand are disposed to overwork the one that has been tried. As for example, the salmon cannery has paid well, and, as a consequence, canneries have multiplied to the extent that the whole salmon industry is in danger of being destroyed. But an industry that uses the refuse from canneries, though even it has passed beyond the experimental stage, is as yet undeveloped.

Another obstacle in the way is not knowing how to utilize our wonderful resources. Salt fish has been shipped, and only the minimum price has been realized. What was the reason? The fish was prepared in the same old way, and the consumer wanted something different, and was only willing to pay the high price when the fish was prepared in the best way.

Another obstacle still is the greed of speculators. Speculators have taken advantage of the predicament they found the small producer in. He had invested his all and they realize that he must sell at their price, and so they have practically robbed him.

These difficulties are being removed, and how? Sensible business men are realizing more and more that the fortunes are not made from the overworked business, but from the new undeveloped industry.

Again, the government is gathering information about the undeveloped industries, and this information is gathered by experts. This information can all be had for the asking. The coming of Dr. Klie should be taken advantage of. His coming is almost an epoch in the Alaska fish industry.

If our fishermen and business men will only make use of him it will help Alaska to mobilize—to get the money.

And still again, the present war will compel our government to be more manly in dealing with food pirates. People are beginning to realize that this class of criminals are more dangerous than the bomb throwing anarchist, and should be treated accordingly.

The producers of Alaska can be more certain from this time on of better treatment, and investors will feel more safe.

"ALASKA"

Volume I, No. 1 of "Alaska," a monthly magazine published at Juneau, has reached our exchange table. The editor and publisher is Sidney Charles, while E. P. Pond is associate editor. Mr. Charles is a Southerner who knows Alaska thoroughly, and who possesses the literary ability to discuss Alaska topics in an entertaining and instructive manner.

The first issue of the new magazine has a number of well written articles, is beautifully illustrated, and by far the best exponent of Alaska, as a whole, that we have ever seen.

The cover for the first issue is beautifully designed and has a representation of the totem pole of Willis Hoagland which stands on Front street, Wrangell.

Love making requires more time than anything else in the world, but when a young man is leaving for the war it is the patriotic duty of a girl to kiss him quick and let him go.

There is something fascinating in the word "enlist," therefore you should "enlist" in the Red Cross.

A dispatch last week reported five inches of snow in Denver. Wrangell people were planting gardens more than a month ago. And now comes one of the big outside newspapers with a smart little editorial item to the effect that "the amateur gardner in Alaska will cut some ice."

Toronto is cutting up her beautiful parks into 50x50 foot gardens. She is going to feed those gallant boys who are doing such heroic service along Vimy Ridge.

The discovery of two earthenware flasks in the prehistoric ruins of the cliff dwellers in Arizona leads to the conclusion that fishing was one good in that aid region.—P.-I.
